ENJOY THE ACTIVITIES AND AMENITIES OF A 5-STAR RESORT IN COMPLETE PRIVACY

Cerulean Villa offers the activities and amenities of a 5-star resort — yours exclusively!

Unlike a resort, there are no additional charges, no shared services, standing in line or staking out beach chairs. Situated on one of the world's most stunning beaches in Barnes Bay, Anguilla, the dramatic new villa always includes a full staff and instructors attending to any request from sailing to paddle boarding to snorkeling — or just enjoying a beachside cocktail. Guests may prefer to lounge by the private 50-ft. infinity pool and gaze at the ocean, or have lunch served on an outdoor terrace. Whether it's a tennis pro, certified sailing instructor, nanny or personal trainer, guests receive specialized attention in world class facilities and stunning natural beauty. The convenience of on-site activities insures privacy and ultimate relaxation.

A sparkling new 800 square foot indoor gym is available for workouts with a private trainer or yoga instructor upon request. Beach activities abound with boats, including a 14' Hobi Wave catamaran, Hobi double kayaks and stand up paddle boards. A private lighted tennis court offers opportunities for a workout and friendly competition. These services and amenities are always included with no additional fees to the guests.

Custom rates are available based on the number of guests.

CHEF ESTELLE ARLAUD BRINGS INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR TO DINING AT CERULEAN VILLA

Executive Chef Estelle Arlaud brings a unique and flavorful approach to dining at the Cerulean Villa. "Growing up in St. Martin and working around the world as a private chef both in villas and on yachts, the flavors of many cultures influence my cuisine, but my philosophy remains the same — use the freshest local ingredients and prepare with passion," says Chef Arlaud. Born in France, she grew up around the restaurant business and considers herself a French chef yet brings the flavor of her years of experience from many locations — Thailand, India, Israel, St. Tropez, the US and throughout the Caribbean. She is adept at infusing French, Mediterranean, Asian, Caribbean and Middle Eastern flair to her dishes and creates delicious kosher, vegan or raw food choices. From formal to casual dining, she uses creativity and sophisticated flavors. Chef Arlaud and her team of three will craft custom menus for Cerulean guests according to their specific needs, giving attention to every detail. Her 28 years of experience as a private chef and her passion for living shines through in every dish. Her cookbook, The Mermaid Chef, How to give the party of your dreams, expresses her enthusiasm for sharing her culinary talents. "I'm thrilled to lead the Cerulean culinary team, catering to the particular preferences of our guests and sharing the ultimate island experience through delicious and healthy food," says Chef Arlaud.

Rates from $200,000 per week, taxes and service fees included. Call for customized rates.

WORLD CLASS SERVICE TRAINING FOR THE CERULEAN VILLA TEAM

After an extensive remodel, the excitement is building for the Cerulean Villa's re-opening in November 2013, bringing a new level of private service to Anguilla. The exclusive 2-acre private beach front estate offers over 20,000 sq. ft. of living space and will accommodate up to 18 guests in unmatched luxury. The core Cerulean service team has been training extensively with leading experts from the renowned Starkey Institute of Household Management — leader in world class standards and private service education. Starkey Trainers Mark Atunovich and Debra Bullock trained the team in butler service and housekeeping. The butler staff has focused particularly on perfecting top skill levels in private service for high profile Cerulean guests, including confidentiality, packing, unpacking and beverage service. Housekeepers have focused on proper care of the exquisite furnishings throughout the estate and keeping the elegant villa immaculate at all times. The team has also trained locally in CPR, water safety and food handling. Bruce Hearn, estate manager, has been working intensely with the team to achieve the exceptional level of service expected by the world's most discerning guests. "We look forward to offering a level of private service unmatched anywhere in the Caribbean, says Mr. Hearn."

Rates from $200,000 per week, taxes and service fees included. Call for customized rates.

A NEW STANDARD OF LUXURY ON THE HORIZON FOR CERULEAN VILLA

ANGUILLA, BWI, June 28, 2013 — Announcing the extensive renovation of Cerulean Villa, situated directly on Anguilla's stunning Barnes Bay.

Reopening November 17, 2013, the exquisite estate will set a new standard of bespoke island living and privacy. Long considered a jewel of the region for luxurious living in a breathtaking location, the entire estate is being transformed over two-years by architect Deborah Berke and designer Scott Salvator, and will be elevated to new levels of luxury for clients of the most discerning tastes. The pinnacle of indoor/outdoor living, the Cerulean offers perfect privacy in one of the West Indies' most beautiful natural settings.

Every detail was conceived with the ultimate guest experience in mind. The 12,500 square foot main villa and 4,500+ annex villa will offer nine jaw-dropping ocean view guest suites. Whether bringing together extended family and friends, or entertaining more formally, guests will have the finest facilities, amenities and staff on hand to ensure that both hosting and relaxing will be elegant and effortless.

Sophisticated modern interiors, cypress wood floors and artisan-crafted design details throughout make the residence warm and personal. Streamlined modern design offers indoor/outdoor living which flows directly to gleaming white sands and cerulean waters. Large living rooms on each floor overlook private gardens and a 50-ft infinity pool.

Three dedicated private chefs create the freshest cuisine for every meal. Whether guests prefer dining al fresco on the terrace, right on the beach, in the BBQ area or indoors in the climate-controlled dining room, the staff executes memorable dining experiences from simple to elegant.

Multiple outdoor seating areas, a spa services room, outdoor fire pit and a 1,000 square foot gym offer multiple options for relaxation, entertaining, events and extended family gatherings. A full staff, led by Cerulean Estate Manager Bruce Hearn, and trained in the renowned Starkey International methods of private service, will offer the highest level of service in the Caribbean. Each guest request will be anticipated and executed seamlessly.

The latest technological features, including integrated Creston audio and video systems, tablets for guest use, wifi throughout with booster points, state-of-the-art security system with on-site guard and black-out systems in master suites combine all modern conveniences for the ultimate relaxation and privacy of the guests.

To avoid confusion it is requested that all travel partners immediately remove all previous photos and information on Cerulean Villa and replace with updated information and photos as they are released in the months leading up to Cerulean's opening November 17, 2013.
